MACIEJ
CIEŚLA

Maciej Cieśla is a head of the Laboratory for Stem Cell RNA Metabolism at the International Institute of Molecular Mechanisms and Machines (IMol) in Warsaw, where he leads his group. His interest is in understanding splicing tunability during activation of stem cells. Maciej obtained his PhD from the Jagiellonian University (PL) to next join Lund Stem Cell Center (SE) in Cristian Bellodi's lab. He established his independent group at IMol in 2022.
